6. Independence and conflict of interest

6.1 The General Conditions do not create any relationship of agency or employment, or a joint venture relationship between the Parties. Accordingly, Gaia-X's relationship with the Partner under these General Conditions is limited to the scope indicated in art. 1.

6.2 The Parties confirm that the General Conditions enter into force independently of any business transactions and decisions in relation to the supply or purchase of goods or other services related to the Expo Partner.

7. Transparency

7.1 Gaia-X shall ensure transparency of the Partners in accordance with the applicable local and international laws, regulations, and codes of conduct. This may involve communicating the payments made under these General Conditions to third parties.

8. Confidentiality

8.1 All non-public and business-related information, including but without being limited to any materials and documentation relating to the Event provided by or on behalf of Gaia-X, any commercially sensitive information, strategic plans or processes, unpublished scientific data, planned public campaigns or policy actions, draft Event plans or concepts, written or oral, disclosed or made available to either Party, directly or indirectly, by or on behalf of one Party or its affiliates through any means of communication or observation, shall be deemed as Confidential Information ("Confidential Information"). The Parties undertake and agree to keep secret and confidential all Confidential Information.

8.2 Disclosure of Confidential Information to third parties requires the prior written consent of the disclosing Party.

8.3 The obligations and limitations set forth herein regarding the Confidential Information shall not apply to information which is:

- (i) in the public domain other than by a breach of the General Conditions on the part of the receiving Party; or
- (ii) rightfully received from a third party which has the right and transmits it to the receiving Party without breaching any obligation of confidentiality; or
- (iii) rightfully known to the receiving Party without breaching any limitation on use or disclosure prior to receipt of the same from the disclosing Party, as shown by the records of the receiving Party; or
- iv) generally made available to third parties by the disclosing Party without any restriction concerning use or disclosure; or

(v) required to be disclosed by law or by a court of competent authority or by the rules or regulations of an applicable governmental or taxation or regulatory body or authority to whose authority the receiving Party is subject.

8.4 After the completion of the Event, the termination of these General Conditions or whenever the disclosing Party requires it, the receiving Party may be asked to return and/or delete the Confidential Information. The receiving Party may be permitted to retain copies if required to demonstrate compliance with the General Conditions or with legal proceedings.

9. Intellectual property

9.1 The Partner grants Gaia-X, for the duration of these General Conditions and in the context of their performance only, a non-exclusive, non-transferable, royalty-free, worldwide licence to use the Partner's trademarks or any other intellectual property relating to any distinctive sign of the Partner or its products or services, such as but without being limited to names, symbols, logos, etc.

9.2 The Partner declares and warrants that it holds all the necessary rights to use and to grant a license on this intellectual property.

10. Data protection

10.1 In the context of the Event, either Party may be processing the contact details of its employees or representatives. The Parties acknowledge that, in relation to the processing of such personal data, each Party shall be free to determine the lawful purpose and the means of such processing and, therefore, shall act as separate data controller. In no event shall these General Conditions lead to a situation where the Parties can be considered joint controllers.

10.2 Each Party agrees to comply with its obligations under the Regulation 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of natural persons related to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) and any other applicable data protection laws. Most particularly, each Party shall:

- (i) process either Party's personal data for the purpose of (a) managing the contractual relationship; (b) complying with a legal obligation; and (c) responding to requests from a competent supervisory authority or individuals;
- (ii) implement and maintain appropriate technical, organisational and security measures that are necessary to protect personal data processed under these General Conditions from any accidental, unauthorised, or unlawful use, destruction, loss or damage, as well as from alteration, access or processing of personal data.

11. Liability

11.1 The liability of the Parties in relation to the performance of the present General Conditions shall be limited to damages caused by gross negligence or willful misconduct. In addition, the parties shall in no circumstances be liable for any indirect or consequential loss or damage incurred by the Partner (including but not limited to loss of profit, damage to the reputation, etc.).

11.2 In any event, the liability of each Party cannot exceed the amount of the Partnership Package.

12. Miscellaneous

12.1 If any provision in the General Conditions is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable, in whole or in part, under any applicable law, that provision shall be deemed not to form part of these General Conditions, and the legality, validity or enforceability of the remainder of the General Conditions shall not be affected. The Parties shall immediately replace the provision with a valid provision having a similar effect.

12.2 The General Conditions constitute the Agreement between the Parties, and supersede and replace any prior or contemporaneous communication, representation, or agreement between the Parties, whether express or implied, oral or written, including all previous agreements related to the subject matter of the General Conditions, as well as all negotiations, conversations, and discussions between the Parties. The Parties will, therefore, not be able to derive any rights from prior agreements.

12.3 Any adaptation or amendment of these General Conditions shall only bind the Parties to the extent that this adaptation or amendment has been made in writing and has been explicitly agreed to by each of the Parties.

13. Disputes

13.1 The present General Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Belgium.

13.2 Any dispute relating to the interpretation, performance or termination of the General Conditions shall be submitted to the exclusive authority of the Belgian courts. Without prejudice to prior negotiation, the Parties shall, in the first instance, submit any dispute relating to the interpretation, implementation or termination of the General Conditions to mediation. The Parties shall appoint a mediator from among the mediators approved by the Federal Mediation Commission.

The mediation shall start no later than 15 days after the request for mediation is notified by one Party to the other Party, and the duration of the mediation shall not exceed 30 days unless the Parties expressly agree. If, at the end of the aforementioned period, no mediation agreement is reached, only the Belgian courts shall have the authority to hear their dispute.

By signing the Partnership Agreement, you agree to deliver the listed items according to the timeline mentioned above to ensure the use of your benefits.

By signing the Partnership Agreement, you agree to register all Summit25 Event attendees affiliated with your organisation on the event website.

The Partnership Agreement is valid only upon return signature from the Gaia-X Association.
