Sweden's Evroc going full Viking with Euro cloud to raid US providers

A Swedish startup called Evroc has declared ambitious plans to build a pan-European cloud platform to take on American heroes Amazon Web Services (AWS) and Microsoft's Azure.

The dominance of the cloud market by the US giants has long been a concern for many in Europe. In 2020, a federated European data infrastructure project called Gaia-X was started, with the aim of reducing the dependency of European companies and governments on US technology providers, with only limited success.

Marktkommunikation über Gaia-X: Einfacher und günstige

„Schneller, einfacher, effizienter und kostengünstiger“: So lautete 2019 das Ergebnis des Projekts „MaKoChain“ der Blockchain-Initiative Energie+ (BCI-E+). Aus der BCI-E+ wurde inzwischen die Technologie-Initiative Energie+ (tie+), die das damalige Modell mithilfe von Gaia-X erneut umgesetzt hat.

Market communication via Gaia-X: Easier and cheaper

"Faster, easier, more efficient and cheaper": This was the result of the "MaKoChain" project of the blockchain initiative Energie+ (BCI-E+) in 2019. The BCI-E+ has now become the Energy+ (tie+) technology initiative, which has implemented the previous model again with the help of Gaia-X.
