So läuft die Ausweiskontrolle in der Apotheke

Ab dem kommenden Jahr sollen Versicherte ihre GesundheitsID erhalten, also ihre digitale Identität für das Gesundheitswesen. Eine Schlüsselrolle kommt den Apotheken zu: Per „Apotheken-Ident“ soll die Identität von Millionen Bürgerinnen und Bürgern in der Offizin bestätigt werden. Neben einer Schulung erhalten Apothekenteams ein Dokumentenprüfgerät, das auch im Behördenumfeld eingesetzt wird.

This is how ID checks work in pharmacy

Starting next year, insured people will receive their health ID, i.e. their digital identity for the healthcare system. Pharmacies play a key role: “Pharmacy Ident” is used to confirm the identities of millions of citizens in the pharmacy. In addition to training, pharmacy teams receive a document-checking device, also used by government’s authorities.

Bosch sensor device to be used for AI, web3 crowdsourced physical data

Blockchain networks peaq and Fetch.ai are collaborating with Bosch to create crowdsourced physical data networks. It uses a Bosch multi-sensor device to collect IoT information. That data could be for weather stations, noise monitoring or various other applications. The web3 angle is device owners will earn crypto rewards for monetizing their data. The combination of monetization and IoT data is often referred to as the economy of things (EoT).
